CHAUTAUQUA IS READY FOR CROWD

Weather Proof Structure to Protect Patrons

Will Seat Three Thousand and Afford Room for Them to Be Comfortable.

NATURE'S ELEVATED SEATS.

Eleven circus days in succession and with a different performance each day, would be the millenium to the small boy and not unpleasant to the parents, who go just to carry him, but in the Chautauqua, which opens tomorrow evening, this air castle in the boy's mind will become a reality to his parents. A continuous program of great variety has been arranged and the facilities for enjoying this mental feast are not one jot less interesting.

The auditorium has something of the air of a summer resort about it, arranged for the comfort of people with summer listlessness, where they can lounge and enjoy without putting forth to energy that attends the pleasures of winter attractions. Whether this idea was studied or not, it is there, and in such details as the arrangements of the seats. These have been placed so far apart that the person who is an end seat fender, can drop down there and those late arrivals can walk past him to the middle seats, without so much as causing him to move his legs. Then the delicious experience of stretching out the legs, that is so painfully absent in the formal theater, is but another feature.

Nature must have anticipated a Chautauqua for Paducah, because the hill on which the auditorium is built, slopes gradually to the platform affording a decline that gives the person in the rear as good a view of the stage as those on the first rows. Back of the spacious seats, tiers of seats rise to the top of the building where cool breezes float in and a fine view of the audience as well as the speakers and performers, can be had.

Sunshiny days and moonlight nights have been ordained by the program committee, but the auditorium with its capacity of 3,000 is weather proof. The elements have been eliminated as a factor in the success of this year's Chautauqua, and the fact that the public expects to attend whether or no, is shown in the sale of season tickets. More have been sold before the opening this year than last year and all the tents have been taken. Chautauqua avenue, just below the auditorium, will be a populous street.

Ice water will be free and liberal—another summery feature that will make the crowds perfectly willing to spend the day in the grounds. The Woman's club have anticipated such a desire by arranging in the largest tent, a lunch room where light lunches can be gotten, but not at summer resort prices. There is not a tinge of money-making in the whole affair. Vehicles will not be allowed inside the Chautauqua grounds but they can be tied safely in the park.

Dropdown Ticket Sale.
For the convenience of the crowds, McPherson's drug store, Fourth street and Broadway, will be a downtown ticket office for the Chautauqua. The admission will be 25 cents and the purchaser may remain in the grounds all day on the one ticket. Season tickets also will be sold for $2 for adults, and 75 cents for children.

FEDERATION INVITED TO MEET IN PADUCAH.

At a meeting of the directors of the Commercial club held last evening, a resolution was passed inviting the State Federation of Women's clubs, in session at Shelbyville, to hold its next annual meeting in Paducah, and a telegram was sent this morning, extending this invitation.

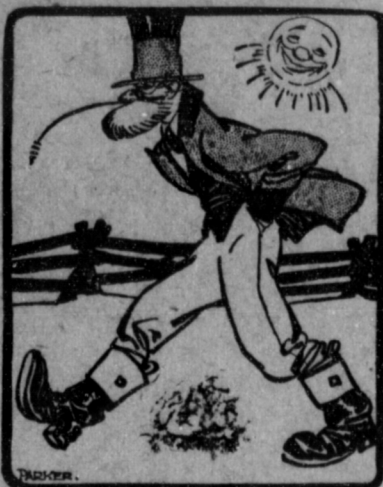

Bitten by Spiders.
Coroner Frank Eaker and Manager Sol Lesser, of the Great Pacific Tea and Coffee company, are suffering from spider bites, the former being bitten on the hand, and the latter on the face, neither seriously.

Little Fred Borders.
Fred, the fifteen-months-old son of Mrs. Lillie Borders, of Fifth and Husbards streets, died yesterday afternoon of summer complaint, and was buried this afternoon in Oak Grove cemetery.

COOTS EGGLESTON HAS CONFESSION TO CUTTING

It is stated that Coots Eggleston held over with William Hamilton on the charge of cutting Mack McKinney in a horrible manner, confessed today in jail to Detective T. J. Moore and County Attorney Alben Barkley that he and Hamilton are guilty. The confession is in writing.

WEATHER FORECAST.

FAIR.

Generally fair except occasional local thunder showers tonight or Thursday. Highest temperature yesterday, 91; lowest today, 64.

MURDER'S CHILD.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 12.—Robert Jolly killed his seven-year-old daughter, Gladys, this morning by pouring carbolic acid down her throat. He escaped. No motive known.

REMORSE KILLS.

Bloomington, Ill., June 12.—Remorse caused the death in the county jail this morning of Thomas Baldwin, accused of the murder of four people at Arrow-smith last fall, because they accused him of assaulting a twelve-year-old girl. He gradually wasted away.

KILL AND FLEE.

Chicago, June 12.—An automobile, carrying two men and two women, ran down Mrs. Julia Metcalf 75 years old, in front of her home this morning, killing her instantly. The occupants of the car escaped, but the driver was arrested.

TOWN BURNS.

Girard, O., June 12.—An incendiary fire this morning caused the destruction of the greater part of the business section, causing a loss of $200,000. The town was without adequate fire protection, and was saved from total destruction by the Youngstown fire department. Eight business blocks, a church and two residences were burned.

MEAT RIOTS.

Cleveland, June 12.—Increase in prices of meat at kosher butcher shops caused a riot in the Jewish quarter this morning. Customers, who left the shops with meat, were attacked and beaten and their purchases were thrown in the mud. The police reserves finally restored partial order.

TO OYSTER BAY.

Washington, June 12.—President and Mrs. Roosevelt left for Oyster Bay this morning. Secretaries Cortelyou, Straus, Garfield and Root were among the party. The president will not return to Washington until October.

DEMAND MORE MONEY.

Chicago, Ill., June 12.—A committee from the teamsters' joint council today delivered the ultimatum of the drivers to the packers, and required an answer to the demand for an increase of four cents an hour. A rise in the price of meats was given as justification for the demand. A great strike is probable.

GRAIN MARKET.

Cincinnati, June 12.—Wheat, 98; corn, 56½; oats, 48½.

PEACE—HYPOCRISY.

St. Petersburg, June 12.—"The Hague peace conference is only a disgusting manifestation of Christian hypocrisy." This is the message received from Mount Leo Tolstoy. The message adds the peace question was fully resolved nineteen hundred years ago.

Want Cars on Broadway.

At a meeting of the business men held at the Commercial club headquarters last evening, a committee was appointed to confer with Manager Bleeker and the directors of the traction company, with a view of inducing them to extend the service of all lines down Broadway to the river instead of around the loop. The following committee was appointed by the business men: Col. Bud Dale, Saunders Fowler, Robert B. Phillips, James A. Rudy, George Langstaff, R. E. Moshell, James Lang and Mohr Michael.

Receives County Reward.

Roy Stanley, colored, who recovered the body of Robert Clements, the negro boy who drowned in the back water in the rear of Chamblin & Murray's brick yard Monday, was allowed $2.50 in county court yesterday for his work.

HOLD-UP MEN USE AX FOR WEAPON

Knock Down J. C. Cunningham
on Fountain Avenue

Aged Citizen Attacked by Two Men in View of Two Boys, Who Give Alarm.

SECURE NOTHING FOR PAINS

Only a short time after dusk and in a thickly settled fashionable residence section, J. C. Cunningham, an aged plasterer, was held up, then knocked down, and his pockets gone through by two robbers, one standing over him with raised ax threatening his life if he made an outcry. So quickly was the hold-up performed, that two boys who were eye witnesses to it, did not realize that robbery was being committed. The robbers escaped and the aged plasterer was assisted home by Lee Duncan, near whose house the hold-up occurred.

Duncan resides a short distance below Madison street on Fountain avenue. Last night at 8:30 o'clock his two boys were seated on the steps. Mr. Cunningham came along en route home. He lives on Adams between Ninth and Tenth streets, and was afoot. Two negroes appeared, going in an opposite direction. One carried an ax, and no attention was paid them by the boys. They observed the men stop the aged plasterer; but in the gloom could at first make out nothing serious. Before the boys realized the seriousness of Cunningham's position, they saw him thrown to the ground and one assailant stand over him. The men then ran, leaving Cunningham prostrate.

The boys' father, who was inside the house, gave Cunningham assistance. He was uninjured. Mr. Duncan walked home with the victim. Cunningham lost nothing, having no money on his person. He is the father of Harry M. Cunningham, the well known musician and plastering contractor.

His assailants were colored, the boys think.

Stops Car; Saves Smashup.

Accepting dangers which companions had turned from in fear, George McAdams, an Illinois Central car repairer employed under Foreman Jack Armstrong, at the boat yards, Sixth and Campbell streets, yesterday afternoon stopped a heavy freight car before its momentum had carried it onto the incline, and prevented a general smashup of the car and transfer boat DeKoven, lying at the foot of the cradle.

THE WAGES OF SIN ARE PAID IN JAIL

Hallie Parker, Whose First Husband Killed Himself and Second is Charged With Crime, Dies in Cell

HAD BEEN ON A LONG SPREE.

Hallie Parker, 55 years old, better known as Hallie Nichols, was found dead in her cell in the city jail today at noon by Patrolman Elijah Cross. The body was not quite cold, and death had come but a short time before. The body was removed to the Matti-Efinger undertaking establishment, and Coroner Eaker was notified.

She was the wife of Ben Parker, whose hotel mysteriously burned at Mayfield a few months ago, when the body of a stranger was found in the ruins. Parker is under indictment for arson.

Mrs. Parker was the daughter of W. H. and Nora Poore, formerly of Third and Norton streets. Her first husband was William Nichols, a bartender, who committed suicide. She had often been arrested for drunkenness and was on a spree for four weeks, preceding her arrest Sunday and fine Monday. The body was discovered by Patrolman Cross, Marshal McNutt, of Mayfield, notified the woman's mother and brother at Mayfield. Coroner Eaker is holding an inquest. It is thought alcoholism caused her death.

George Sullivan, Jr., 18 years old, died of pneumonia at the home of his father, J. W. Sullivan, of Florence station, last night. He had been ill a few weeks, and leaves his parents, one brother and four sisters. The funeral will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock. The burial will be in Mt. Pleasant cemetery.

HENRY WATTERSON SAYS HE KNOWS A DEMOCRAT WHO CAN WIN.

Preacher Is Given Horse Whipping By a Delegation ofirate Citizens

Fulton Scandal Culminates in Violence to Young Pastor.
Accused of Undue Intimacy
With Fair Member of His Flock

REV. FRANK HAWLEY LEAVES.

Fulton, Ky., June 12.—(Special.)—Indignant at his presumption in returning to the city, a posse of citizens met the Rev. Hawley, until recently pastor of the First Presbyterian church, in this city, at the train early yesterday morning, and administered a horse whipping.

REPUBLICANS TO MEET SATURDAY

On Saturday the Republicans of McCracken county will assemble in mass convention at the court house for the purpose of selecting delegates to the state convention at Louisville. It is expected that a large attendance will be had, as there are prospects of an effort being made to send an unopposed delegation to the state convention. Republicans, the rank and file of the party, desire to instruct their delegation, so it will record the will of the party in McCracken county in the convention. Some members of the party have gotten the county and city conventions confused. The convention Saturday is for the county. There will be 24 delegates chosen.

Somebody Attempts to Burn Down Store of Joseph Ford

Unknown persons prized open a window in the rear of Joe Ford's residence last night about 11 o'clock and placed two jugs containing gasoline inside. After this a match was struck and a hasty exit made. One jug exploded and Mr. William Pryor, a neighbor, was awakened by the noise and seeing the flame rushed over and threw out the other jug before it exploded and then extinguished the fire before any damage of consequence had been done. Mr. Ford keeps a grocery at 340 Mill street and his residence is in the rear. He is at a loss to know what the purpose could have been. Patrolmen Howell and Ferguson are working on the case, but so far no clue has been found.

COWELL DID NOT COME TO PADUCAH

No trace of A. L. Cowell, who is said to have gone to Fulton yesterday and taken his nine-year-old son away from Mrs. Cowell has been found here. He went to Tennessee, his old home. A divorce suit is pending in the McCracken circuit court, Mrs. Cowell alleging drunkenness and wasting his property. She asks for custody of their three children. Mr. Cowell was a car repairer at the Illinois Central shops for a time. Then he went into the grocery business. He sold his residence recently.

After a horse whipping. Then they conducted him to a nearby station, flagged a south-bound train and placed him on it, after exacting a promise that he would never return to Fulton.

Hawley, who is 30 years old and single, was accused of being too familiar with feminine members of his flock. A divorce case, in which a prominent merchant's wife figured recently, was coincident with Hawley's resignation and departure from Fulton.

Hawley had been in the pulpit little over a year. The incident of his horse whipping has created a deal of excitement in the city.

Dan Cunningham Drowns at Foot of Jackson Street

"Uncle" Dan Cunningham, 76 years old, a brick mason and steamboat furnace installer, was drowned off the steamer Margaret, lying at Owens Island, at 12:15 o'clock this afternoon. He was walking near the outer guard when he tripped and lost his balance, falling into the river. His body was carried out of reach of rescuers before they could secure a boat or rope. The body was not recovered. William McMahon, a bricklayer, and others were near him when he fell, but too far away to render assistance. The top of his head came to the surface once, about 15 yards below the wheel. Dan Cunningham was born in Ireland 76 years ago and had been in America 72 years. He had been in Paducah about 35 years and was married, leaving a wife, a son in St. Louis, and daughter in Paducah, Mrs. C. L. Adams, of Twenty-third and Clark streets.

WEST KENTUCKY SOCIETY EVENTS

Mayfield, Ky., June 12. (Special.)—At a breakfast given this morning at the residence of Attorney H. J. Moorman, the engagement of his daughter, Miss Hallie Moorman, and Mr. William Stanfield, a well known young attorney, was announced. They will be married June 26. Both the contracting parties are well known socially in Paducah.

Marries Naval Officer.

Hopkinsville, Ky., June 12.—Maj. Cyrus S. Radford, of Philadelphia, assistant quarter master of the United States marine corps, and Miss Katherine Manson, a Kentucky belle, were married at the bride's home this morning.

After a horse whipping. Then they conducted him to a nearby station, flagged a south-bound train and placed him on it, after exacting a promise that he would never return to Fulton.

Hawley, who is 30 years old and single, was accused of being too familiar with feminine members of his flock. A divorce case, in which a prominent merchant's wife figured recently, was coincident with Hawley's resignation and departure from Fulton.

Hawley had been in the pulpit little over a year. The incident of his horse whipping has created a deal of excitement in the city.

MILK INSPECTOR ELECTED TONIGHT

Successor to Dr. Ed Farley
Will be Chosen as Well as
Two Members of Board of Hospital Trustees

DRS. SIGHTS AND BROOKS.

Two members of the Riverside hospital board and a milk and meat inspector to succeed Dr. Ed Farley, who concludes a most successful and beneficial term to the city, will be elected at a special meeting of the general council tonight. Drs. H. P. Sights and J. G. Brooks retire from the hospital board, unless they are re-elected. Both have devoted considerable time to the duties of the board and have made excellent officials. Besides Dr. Farley, who will be a candidate to succeed himself, it is understood that Dr. C. G. Warner, veterinarian, and Dr. H. T. Rivers are mentioned for milk inspector. Under Dr. Farley's regime strict regulations have been enforced and the sanitary conditions of dairies has been improved.

Young Girl Wins Many Prizes.

Miss Ruth Short, 14 years old, niece of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Short, of 1709 South Sixth street, city, won a silver and gold medal and two pins for her work in elocution, and will shortly enter a grand contest for a gold medal. She is but 14 years old and lives in Granite City, Ill., where the contests were held.

Mrs. Blaine Kilgore Better.

Physicians state that Mrs. Blaine Kilgore, who is suffering from appendicitis, is better and that no operation will be necessary. The report that Dr. Mudd, of St. Louis, had been telegraphed to hold himself in readiness for an operation, is erroneous.

Mrs. Isaman on Inspection.

Mrs. Mike Isaman has returned from Fulton, Mayfield and Wingo, after visiting members of the Ladies Circle, Woodmen of the World. She was accompanied home by Mrs. Robert Hodges, of Fulton, who will be her guest for a few days.

BIGAMY CHARGES FROM BROOKPORT

Cause Arrest and Detention of Joe Frith by Police This Morning

DENIES THAT HE IS GUILTY

Brookport Officer Says Prisoner Sent
One Wife Away and Took Another There.

WAITING FOR REQUISITION

Charged with bigamy, and outspoken in his determination to give authorities all the trouble he can, Joe Frith, alias Joe Johnson, who is said by a reputable officer to have served a term in the penitentiary in Kentucky for forgery, is under arrest in Paducah, being held pending the reception of extradition papers. If the story of his alleged crimes are true, he is probably the coolest and most brazen prisoner ever arrested in Paducah.

Frith was arrested this morning at Fourth street and Broadway by Patrolman Walter Shelby on identification by Constable D. M. Sheffer, of Brookport, Ill. Sheffer held a warrant issued by Justice of the Peace John Lackman at Brookport, charging Frith with having two wives. Frith was closeted with officers the greater part of the morning, was sullen, and refused to return without a requisition.

No Statement To Make.
"I have no statement to make to the papers, and having relatives here, beg of you to hold it out," was the statement he made.

Continuing he said: "I was born in Tobaccoport, Stewart county, Tennessee, and do not deny marrying a woman in that state. I do deny the accusation of a second wife in Brookport, and will plead that I was never in Brookport until two years ago. I worked for Foreman & Fletcher as lumber inspector until April 3, this year, when the mill burned and I came here. Since then I have been employed by the Lack Singletree company and only yesterday went back of Brookport, four miles into the country and secured a witness we needed in a mill case. I deny that I was ever in the penitentiary, and will fight this case to the end. I will give them as much trouble as I can. I hope to be able to secure a writ of habeas corpus and secure a bond or freedom here. I want to make them show their hand first."

Frith is 35 years old, of medium height and weight, and of florid complexion. He is well educated and talks decisively. He will employ a Paducah attorney he says.

Constable's Statement.
In speaking of Frith's case, Constable Shaffer said: "You need not fear printing that he served a term in the penitentiary for forgery in Kentucky, for Mr. A. P. Utterback, of Brookport, went his bond on a parole, which has now expired. He committed forgery after he married the second time. His case is singular."

"The records of Massac county will show that Frith married Miss Ollie Wilson, of Brookport, about three years ago at Brookport at the Lynn hotel. He remained about Brookport for some time, and was sent up a few months later for forgery committed in Kentucky. He was released on a parole, and sent his second wife Ollie Johnson, marrying her under that name, to Louisville. He then brought his Tennessee wife, with four children, to Brookport and three weeks ago his second wife returned from Louisville to find wife No. 1. She went before Magistrate Lackman and swore out the warrant. We tried to get Frith or Johnson yesterday but he got by us."

TOBACCO GROWERS TO GATHER HERE

At a special meeting of the directors of the Commercial club plans were put under way, by which it is hoped a convention of the Dark Tobacco growers of western Kentucky can be held in Paducah early this fall, and a special committee was appointed to co-operate with the Commercial club to this end.

Will Dixon Held As Suspect.
Police are investigating Will Dixon, colored, who was found in possession of much clothing, shoes and other miscellaneous stuff. It is thought he has been the sneak thief guilty of so many burglaries lately.

Telephone Wires Down.
Several wires were blown down by the wind at noon today. However, the damage was small as the telephone companies had workmen out to repair the breaks at once.

SEWER PIPE COMPANY.

New Concern in Mechanicsburg Buy With Local Capital.

The Paducah Sewer Pipe and Block company, manufacturers of concrete building blocks and sewer pipes, has started operation in Mechanicsburg with W. L. Bower, president, and Robert Bower, manager. The company expects to do a big business in this section, and is controlled by local capital.

How "Jiner" Raised Funds.

Twenty-eight handshakes netted the Home of the Friendless $2.80, a novel and original way of securing funds for the popular institution. County Assessor J. Wes Troutman belongs to six secret orders, each with a "grip." He conceived the idea of shaking hands with every one he met Saturday night, and when he found one who belonged to any order he did, make them donate a dime to charity. He collected from 28, and turned the money over to the Home of the Friendless.

Enterprise and advertising make the biggest pair in the deck.

SUN AND SNOW

Sometimes Help the Hair to Go.

In any changeable climate the hair is apt to become brittle and to break off stubby here and there. This makes a hair-dressing almost a necessity, especially to ladies. In using a hair dressing why not get the best, one that combines with it the efficiency in killing the dandruff germ, the germ that eats the hair off at the roots, causing that is called falling hair, and in time baldness. Newbro's "Herpicide" is that kind of a hair dressing. You have no idea how delightful your scalp will feel and how stylish your hair will appear, after an application or two of Herpicide. It is certainly a wonderful innovation as a scalp antiseptic and hair-dressing. Sold by leading druggists. Two sizes, 50c and $1. Send 10c in stamps for sample to the Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

W. F. Yates, of New York, national president of the Marine Engineers' association, probably will be in Paducah in the next week. Captain J. B. Flasch, business manager of the association, who returned from Evansville last night, said he expected to receive a letter, requesting him to meet Mr. Yates in Evansville. Mr. Yates was in Pittsburg yesterday and is coming down by river. Captain Flasch thinks it is not a good time for the national president to make the trip as all the engineers are busy and would be hard to see.

A tool flat sank at the Ayer-Lord tie company's fleet at Owen's island night before last with a considerable property loss. With the large number of barges always on hand at the fleet, an extensive outfit of tools is required and these with many bundles of oakum are reported to have been lost. Barges are the most uncertain quantities on the rivers. Uncertainty watchfulness is the price of success in handling them, as no condition of age or use can assure one that they will not spring a leak.

Four boats were inspected today by Government Inspectors Green and St. John, who arrived a day ahead of time. The Margaret of the Ayer-Lord tie company, the Fannie Wallace of the West Kentucky Coal company, the Mary N. of the St. Bernard Coal company, the W. T. Hardison of Nashville, and the Kuttawa. Wholesale inspecting like this may be expected to give more work to the dry docks and ways.

The W. T. Hardison will leave today for Nashville after receiving repairs for ten days at the ways. A big barge was pulled out on the ways this morning.

The St. Louis and Tennessee river packets will meet here today, the Sallito arriving from St. Louis bound for the Tennessee, and the Savannah arriving from the Tennessee river bound for St. Louis.

The Peters Lee will arrive tomorrow afternoon from Memphis on the way up to Cincinnati and all way points.

The Dunbar did not arrive until today from Clarksville and left an hour or so late for Nashville.

The Clyde will leave at 6 o'clock this evening for the Tennessee river with a good trip from local shippers.

The Joe Fowler made good time in the Evansville trade today with freight shipments good considering the general depression.

The river is at a critical stage now as heavy rains would send it up to the danger line. The stage this morning showed a rise of 0.4 in the last 24 hours, bringing the river up to 25.9. The rainfall was .16 inches.

The Dick Fowler got away on time for Cairo today with a good mid-week passenger list.

Hundreds of car loads of sand and gravel are taken from the river here annually, yet the bottom of the river probably doesn't show any effect from the dredging. It illustrates the cost of deepening a channel in the river and to be successful, some method of keeping the sediment moving should be devised.

Official Forecasts.

The Mississippi, from below St. Louis to Cairo, will rise slowly during the next 24 hours.

The Ohio, at Evansville and Mt. Vernon, not much change last night, followed by rising for two or three days. At Paducah and Cairo, will continue rising during the next two days. Additional water in sight this morning will give Cairo a stage of 36 or 37 feet.

The Tennessee, at Florence and Riverton, will rise during the next 36 hours and pass the 8-foot stage at Florence. At Johnsonville, slight change today, followed by rising.

The Wabash, at Mt. Carmel, will fall during the next 36 hours.

"They are most successful who most serve."

TRUE STATESMANSHIP.

Our great national peril does not come from the outside. Providence has protected this nation with geographic boundaries. We have only ourselves to fear.

Conquest and territorial acquisition marked early stages of our national development. Those were extravagant times, when the insignificance of the population compared with the area of the United States prevented the inhabitants realizing that there must come a time when the relation of the population to the area must be reversed. Wasteful habits were the heritage of succeeding generations, and only those, whose business foresight observed the possibilities of accruing riches from the growth of land values, appreciated
the dissipation of the natural wealth of the nation, and the others, true to the dogma of unrestrained personal opportunity, placed no check on private acquisition of public domain
and the destruction of forests.

In a free country public opinion is likely to regard government as a burden and the license of individuals with complacency. Governmental policies at best are as shifting sands,
and we rear more politicians than statesmen.

The period of acquisition has long since passed. Our development has advanced so fast that we are menaced
with a check to our industrial independence through exhaustion of our crude supply.

"The conservation of our natural resources and their proper use constitute the fundamental problem which underlies almost every other problem of our national life. Unless we maintain an adequate material basis for our civilization, we can not maintain the institutions in which we take so great and so just a pride; and to waste and destroy our natural resources means to undermine this material basis. During the last five years efforts have been made in several new directions in the government service to get our people to look ahead, to exercise foresight, and to substitute a planned and orderly development of our resources in the place of a haphazard striving for immediate profit. The effort has been made through several agencies."

Thus did President Roosevelt in his speech before the National Editorial association embody in concrete form the policies of the various administrative bureaus of the interior department, and place the issues between the executive and special interests, particularly in the west, on high grounds.

The west is most intimately concerned with the home policies of the government. The reclamation of arid lands, the reservation of fuel land, forest preservation, prevention of waste of stock ranges, development of the inland waterways—all these are of vital interest between the Allegheny mountains and the Pacific slope.

By this timely concentration of his arguments President Roosevelt has put the administration in a strong position to meet the forces, which are working for their private gain to break down the policy of the interior department. It was made on the eve of the great real estate convention at

Denver, known to be packed for the purpose of dealing the administration
a blow, on account of its interest in western lands. True to his nature President Roosevelt has struck first and he has struck hard. He has declared that the land thieves are against him. His general policy is unassailable. It will prove embarrassing for anyone to attack him now.

Unquestionably, aside from the frauds practised in the far west, we Americans are wasteful and extravagant. On the farm, where customs and environments change less frequently, the waste is most noticeable.
It has been but a short time, as the ages are counted, since this was a vast wilderness, in which any man was welcome to as much as he could manage. The population was sparse, the market demand was small. It was not necessary to farm scientifically.
It was not necessary to save. The habit grew on us. Our forests were a nuisance, which had to be removed.
There was no apparent limit to the timber supply. Fuel and ore were plentiful. So we went on, but the population increased amazingly.
Prices of land climbed up, the timber supply diminished under the heavy demands, and the fuel deposits receded, as the picks swung in the openings; but we did not change our habits, except where city life compelled us.

It is time for us to take to heart
the lesson, which Theodore Roosevelt has learned from his position of vantage, and stop robbing ourselves
of our heritage.

It takes but a few minutes to chop down a tree. It requires a generation to replace it. Other countries have exhausted their natural wealth. We should heed the warning and cling to the advantages we possess. Private enterprises will not have regard for the general welfare or the future supply. Only government action will save our resources and that action
must be immediate and drastic.

Naturally the people deprived of personal gain will be heard from. The rest of us will sit silent, if we understand the situation, or sympathize with our agitated fellows if we do not. Little practical aid from citizens generally can be expected.

It is his way of taking the people into his confidence that has won success for Theodore Roosevelt, and when historians review his administration no other policy will stand out as important, and far-reaching in its effect on the future of the nation, as does his internal policy of the "conservation of our national resources."

His realization of the condition and prompt action place him above
his predecessors in true statesmanship.

We judge the pervading extent of human depravity by the ease with which people justify their conduct in short changing the stamp clerk at the postoffice, defrauding street car companies out of their fare and lying to railroad baggage agents.

We have been preaching the doctrine of universal sewer connections, expounded yesterday by the member of the board of health, for a long time. Of what advantage is it to a man to go to the expense of connecting with a sewer, if his neighbors
keep their property in such condition
as to breed pestilence?

Invasion of Salvador by Nicaraguan troops indicate that Yelaha has declared war, but it may be just a lark on the part of his troops. Declarations of war are very formal functions in Latin republics.

Reports of Cabrera's murder were premature.

Taft is "winning the West."

Republicans of McCracken county should make a point to attend the county convention at the court house Saturday to choose delegates to the state convention.

Angle worms, toads and alligators seen in streets of Evansville after the recent rain storm, indicate an interesting psychological phenomenon attendant on prolific precipitation of atmospheric moisture.

PADUCAH (PAT DUGAN).
Strange what misleading information comes from what are unexpected sources. One would naturally feel certain of getting the right "dope"
concerning a prominent city in Kentucky from a Louisville paper. Here comes one of the enterprising journals of that city, however, with a long and strong complimentary write-up of the city of Paducah, in which it is solemnly stated that on the banks of the river near that city is the grave of the great Indian chief from whom the city took its name.
There may have been an Indian warrior with a name somewhat similar to the name of this prosperous and progressive city, but it's the height of absurdity to try to tell us that he gave the city its name. Ask any old-time Ohio river steamboatman or any old dweller of the river section of the city, and you will be told that away back yonder when boats first began plowing the pelucid waters of La Belle river, they used wood for fuel almost exclusively. There was a woodyard for boats at or near the site of the present city of Paducah,
and it was kept by an Irishman named Patrick Dugan. Of course everybody called him Pat Dugan, and that soon became Padugan—and there you have the genesis of the name. All old-time rivermen know all about this, and some of them probably could tell you of acquaintance with descendants of the original Patrick Dugan. Give the Indian his due, but also let other people have theirs.—Woman's World.

A woman's back has many aches

Most times 'tis the kidneys' fault.
Backache is really kidney ache.

cure it.

Many Paducah women know this.
Read what one has to say about it.

Mrs. R. E. Whitner, of 826 South
Sixth street, Paducah, Ky., says:

"For years I have been a sufferer
from backache and kidney trouble.

At times my back has been so lame that I was unable to get around my house on account of the severe pain
across the small of my back and left side. I doctored but received very little benefit until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills which I procured
at DuBois, Son & Co.'s drug store.

I took them as directed and the results have been very satisfactory. I certainly believe that I would have been at least confined to my bed at this time had it not been for Doan's Kidney Pills."

Pennsylvania Governor Signs Employers' Liability and Other Laws.

Harrisburg, Pa., June 12.—Four bills advocated by the United Mine Workers, a garnishee bill and the anti-vaccination bill, were disapproved by Governor Stuart today.

The governor signed the employers'
liability bill and the bill repealing
the act of 1868 which classifies railway mail clerks as railroad employes
in suits for damages for injuries sustained, so as to give them the same right to recover as passengers.

for the purpose of selecting candidates for all of the city offices that are to be filled at the election in November, 1907.

is a consequent flurry among the 8-000 members of the American colony.

The consulate is flooded with requests for information and explana-

passed a resolution extending to Mr.
Land a hearty welcome to Paducah.

ARE CHANGING HANDS SINCE
RACES COMMENCED.

Fast Ones, That Show Their Mettle
at Fair Grounds Are Wanted
and Many Are Imported.

As a result of the Matinee club races, great interest has been aroused in racing stock in Paducah and several important deals have lately gone through. Lovers of horse flesh are trying to outdo each other and several new horses will be brought to Paducah before the next races are pulled off.

Ben T. Frank has bought for $450
from Virgil Sherrill the fast pacer
"Harry A.," winner of the special pacing race against "George Starr"
and "J. T." in the last races.

Zack Bryant has bought a fine
pacer from Nashville which will arrive in a few days, paying a big price for the horse.

Dr. D. G. Murrell purchased a fine
stepper from Wynn Tully for $350 and many other deals are being pushed through.

"George Starr," the fine pacing horse of Dr. Ed Farley, was hurt yesterday while being led to the fair ground, and will not be able to race for a month. The horse was in fine spirits and broke away from the driver.

ONE TRAIN ROBBER IS KILLED.

Reported Shooting of Wyoming Suspect by Posse Confirmed.

Cheyenne, Wyo., June 12.—The reported killing of one of two fugitives, believed to be the Northern Pacific train robbers, near Sheridan, was confirmed today. The dead man had a check drawn by A. B. Hill on the Hill Bank and Trust company in favor of Frank Stahner. The body was buried by the posse. Neighboring ranches have been notified of the escape of the other outlaw, who is believed to be wounded.

Peking To Paris Auto Race.

Peking, June 12.—Three French,
one Dutch, and one Italian motor car started this morning in the Peking to Paris race. They were given an enthusiastic sendoff by the foreign residents, including the American, Austrian and French ministers. The Chinese were much astonished, as this was the first time motor cars had been seen in Peking.

President Is Grieved.

Baltimore, Md., June 12.—Presi-

"Rear Admiral Evans, Washington.
We are indifferently shocked and grieved by the news of the disaster

Theodore and Ethel Roosevelt."

Have You Spring Fever?

Warm, sultry days, like those we have had the past few days, bring out the tired, run-down, spring fever conditions in the most healthy. We feel drowsy most of the time, indifferent to everything, sometimes have dull headaches, and are "out of sorts" generally.

This is a condition incident to the first warm weather, but it is merely nature's warning to get in fit condition for the warm season ahead.
The condition is due to a sluggish liver, deranged digestive functions, or probably deranged kidneys. It is easily and quickly cured, if taken in hand in time.

The osteopathic treatment is the safe, rational, most effective cure for such ailments. Several treatments in the dry hot air machine, followed by the osteopathic treatment eradicates the condition. It stimu-lates every function,—the liver, and stomach and bowels, the kidneys and blood, the heart action, and does it without resort to drugs of any sort,
—just osteopathy.

I should like for you to investigate osteopathy. It is a new science in healing, but there is nothing occult about it,—merely scientific manipulation to restore a deranged function to normal activity, and to give tone to all the organs of the body.

The great success I am having with it every day in the treatment of Paducah people you know well is the testimony I offer for it. Call me over phone 1407, or call to see me, upstairs, 516 Broadway, at any time from 9 to noon or 1:30 to 5 in the afternoon. Dr. G. B. Froese, Osteopathist.

A WISE HEAD

It's a wise head that thinks for itself.

It's a wise head that is not carried away by the seductive prices some clothiers name on spring wearables.

The wise head investigates the quality to find out what the clothier offers for the price.

$10, $12 and $15 are prices every clothing store names for suits.

The wise head says "Show me."

We want to show you our $10, $12
and $15 suits and then say "Match us, if you can."

When a man learns it's what he gets
for the price that counts, then he's wise.

Regarding Adjustment of Rate On Yellow Pine Lumber.

Nashville, Tenn., June 12.—Several prominent railroad officials of the lines operating in the southeast and interested in the yellow pine lumber rate case, recently decided adversely
to the roads, are in the city today,
in conference with Judge Ed Baxter, relative to what arrangements are to be made in complying with the ruling of the interstate commerce commission.

It will be remembered that in April, 1903, the railroads operating in Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi,
where immense quantities of yellow pine lumber originate, advanced the rate to Ohio river crossings and beyond, 2 cents. The lumber men raised a protest, and the adjustment
of the matter was only recently accomplished after a long siege of litigation.

The conference began this morning, and will doubtless be concluded
today.

The following officials are here in regard to the matter: C. C. Cameron, general freight agent of the Illinois Central at Chicago; D. W. Longstreet, general freight agent of the Illinois Central at Memphis, and several others.

SENATOR MORGAN DIES
IN WASHINGTON HOUSE.

Washington, June 12.—United States Senator John Tyler Morgan, of Alabama, died here at 11:15 o'clock last night. Morgan had been in ill health for a number of years but had more or less regularly attended sessions of congress. He suffered from angina pectoris. Morgan was aged 83 years and had been a member of the senate for 30 years. A committee from the senate and house will

DIES AFTER FASTING TEN DAYS

Physical Cultivist Gives Life to Prove Food Is Unnecessary.

Washington, June 12.—That people must eat to live was demonstated
again today. A printer who imagined he could ignore this law of nature paid the forfeit with his life.
John H. Swerdiger, a compositor at the government printing office, undertook with a number of other persons belonging to a physical culture organization a fast of 30 days. Not once this month had a morsel of food
been taken by Swerdiger. He drank water freely. He showed no material signs of weakening until he fell unconscious to the floor this morning
and expired of heart trouble.

LOYAL TO ACCUSED OFFICIALS

Miners, in Session at Denver, Send Prisoners Encouraging Telegram.

Denver, June 12.—Still loyal to their accused officials, Moyer and Haywood, 200 delegates gathered here today for the fifteenth annual convention of the Western Federation of Miners. The following telegram was sent to Moyer and Hayward addressed to the jail at Boise:
"Fifteenth annual convention sends greetings. Confident of your innocence, and we are with you until your honor is vindicated and your freedom assured."

No opposition to continuing Moyer and Haywood in office as president and secretary-treasurer has been voiced by any of the delegates, and the convention is expected to pass resolutions strongly indorsing the imprisoned officials.

Another Gradyville Body Found.

Columbia, Ky., June 12.—The body of Mrs. Linell, lost in the Gradyville flood, was recovered. This leaves but one body, that of Mrs.
Lum Hill, missing. A number of men went from here today to continue the search.

What It Rained in Evansville.

Evansville, Ind. June 12.—In the

Miss Mattie Lou McGlathery, a sister of the groom, is a bridesmaid and Mr. Edward Scott, of this city, is one of the groomsmen. Misses Lillie Mae and Grace McGlathery have gone to Humboldt to attend the wedding.

Cotillion Club.

The Cotillion club will give a dance this evening at the Wallace park pavilion in honor of the visitors in the city.

Opening Ball.

The sixth annual ball will be given this evening at the New Century hotel, Dawson Springs. This will mark the opening of the popular hotel for the summer. Several Paducah people are at the springs.

Church Concert.

A large audience was present at the First Christian church last night at the concert given by Mrs. R. E. Jones and Mrs. R. C. Covert for the benefit of the Ladies' Furnishing society of the church. The lecture room was prettily decorated with palms, daisies, carnations and other potted plants. In addition to the regular program, consisting of the best musical talent in the city, Miss Mamie Dryfuss sang and Mr. Joseph Desberger recited. Miss Harvey Amoss, of Cobb, Ky., who is visiting in the city, rendered a piano solo.

Benefit of Church.

The women of the Broadway Methodist church gave an interesting concert last night for the benefit of the church. The program was enjoyed by a large audience. Vocal and instrumental solos were given by people of the city. The feature of the evening was the work of little Miss Genela Ballowe, who proved herself a clever entertainer in songs and recitations.

Ice Cream Supper.

The Young Ladies' Aid society of the Trimble Street Methodist church gave an ice cream supper last night on the lawn of the church. An interesting musical program with the assistance of Jackson's band was given and a neat sum cleared.

The Charity club will meet tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock with Mrs. Edward Bringham, 620 Kentucky avenue. This will be an important meeting and all members are urgently requested to be present.

Prof. Billington Weds.

Prof. S. J. Billington, superintendent of McCracken county schools, and Miss Jessie May Stewart, of the Millburn Chapel neighborhood, will be married this evening at 5 o'clock at the residence of the Rev. T. B. Rouse, pastor of the Baptist church at Lone Oak. It will be a quiet affair, only a few of their intimate friends and relatives being present. Mr. Billington is one of the best known young educators in western Kentucky. He has been instrumental in the upbuilding of county schools during his incumbency, and is generally popular. His bride to be is the accomplished daughter of Mr. C. Stewart, a prominent farmer. The attendants will be Messrs. Esch Cunningham and Edward Stewart and Mrs. Esch Cunningham and Miss Grace Billington. After the ceremony the young couple will go to the

BRAVES FLYING HOOPS TO SAVE HIS FINE TEAM.

With head and shoulders within a few inches of flying hoops Will Husbands, street contractor, unbuckled the trace chains and freed his $400 draft team of horses this morning at Ninth and Harrison streets, saving them from injury only by taking desperate chances. Husbands was sitting by his driver, Joseph Tucker. The wagon was empty at the Illinois Central crossing of Harrison street, and a puffing locomotive frightened the horses, not yet "city broke." Snapping the wagon tongue in two, allowing the jagged ends to beat their sleek sides, the horses started at a mad gallop. Tucker held firmly, and Husbands immediately let himself down to the trace chains. While they ran four squares, he succeeded by strenuous work in undoing them, and freed the horses from being horribly cut by the jagged ends of the wagon tongue. A few squares further the horses were stopped.

PRINCETON INCENDIARY FIRE CAUSE OF BIG SUIT

Attorneys William Marble and John K. Hendrick, of the firm of Hendrick, Miller & Marble, went to Princeton this morning to be heard in demurrers filed against the petition in the case of John G. Orr against the Imperial Tobacco company, of Kentucky, a branch of the Imperial Tobacco company, of England, for $13,000, the value of a tobacco barn burned at Princeton in December, 1906, when all city officers were seized, locked up and two tobacco barns burned to the ground by night riders.

Orr owned one barn and had made a deal with the tobacco company to sell it. No money had been paid, and when the barn burned, the company refused to pay over the amount agreed on, $13,000. Orr alleges that a contract existed while the company alleges it did not, no money having been paid. The Paducah attorneys represent the plaintiff. The case proper will be tried in the fall.

LEVY'S BIG SALE.

Great Crowds of Shoppers Thronged the Popular Ready-to-Wear Store All Day.

Levy's Great Sale is certainly proving a wonderfully popular event with the ladies, not only of Paducah but of the country for miles around. So great was the crush during most of the morning that it was necessary to lock the doors several times and the sixteen sales people were almost distracted. In spite of the crowd, which made it impossible to move around with any degree of freedom, everyone was in high good humor and seemed to appreciate fully the unusual opportunities which the occasion afforded.

St. Louis, June 12.—Acting on instructions from Washington, United States District Attorney Thompson will tomorrow move against the so-called umbrella trust. While he will not divulge the names of the concerns, against all of which he will probably proceed, he admits that bills will be framed against some prominent firms and corporations in the east.

HUCKSTERS IDEAL FOR PULPIT. Pittsburgh Professor Says Ministers Could Get Points From Them.

St. Louis, June 12.—Hucksters would make ideal pulpit orators if vocal delivery alone were to be considered, because they do not yell, but halloo, according to Professor George M. Steeth, of Pittsburgh, who delivered the first of a series of lectures on elocution before a class of ministers at the First United Presbyterian church this afternoon.

Professor Steeth says that the "attack" is one of the most essential requirements for a successful pulpit orator, and ministers could well learn from the hucksters in this respect.

MORMON PROPHET IS FOR POLYGAMY HE ASSERTS

Salt Lake City, Utah, June 12.—A sensational feature of the controversy which has been waged between the ministers of the Evangelical churches and the Mormon priesthood was the address delivered in the Tabernacle today by Elder Brigham H. Roberts, once excluded from congress because of his polygamous practices. He spoke in reply to an open letter published by the ministerial association, Elder Roberts frankly declared that the church had surrendered not one iota of its belief in the principle of polygamy, but countenanced no polygamous marriages while they were forbidden by law. Of himself he said: "I stand exactly where I did ten years ago, namely, that though the church proclaimed against the continuation of this relationship, though the state proclaimed against it, neither the church nor the state may absolve the moral obligations I am under or release me from that moral duty."

Mr. Roberts characterized the Christian ministers as belonging to a third sex, neither male nor female, and said they were better qualified for pink teas than statesmanship. All of the high officials of the church, including President Smith, were present and tacitly endorsed the address of Mr. Roberts as an utterance of the church body.

SIX MIDDIES AND OFFICER DROWN

Launch of Minnesota Sinks in Hampton Roads

Run Down Shortly After Midnight Tuesday Morning Returning to Battleship.

NAVY DEPARTMENT SHOCKED.

Norfolk, Va., June 12.—Six midshipmen and an officer, who came ashore last night in a small boat from the United States battleship Minnesota, lying in Hampton Roads to attend the ball at the Jamestown exposition grounds, together with five seamen, are missing.

The Minnesota's launch is known to have left Discovery Landing at the exposition grounds shortly after 12 o'clock Monday night and the theory of officers of the fleet now in the Roads is that the launch struck something and went down and that all were drowned.

In response to a message from the navy department Rear Admiral Evans telegraphed that the Minnesota's steamer was still missing and expressed the fear that she was run down and sunk.

Last night it was learned that Lieutenant Randall, who was included in the first list of missing has arrived safely at Norfolk. He did not take passage on the Minnesota's launch as had been supposed. While the launch carried a good sized party, no one has been found who can say exactly how many occupants the launch contained.

Naval officers are using every effort to ascertain who was in the launch. A large number of men are reported missing from various ships. Men have been detailed to search Norfolk, Portsmouth, Newport News and the vicinity. Vessels of the fleet are keeping in constant intercommunication by wireless telegraph.

Department Appalled.

Washington, June 12.—The loss at one time of six bright young midshipmen, fresh from the academy at Annapolis, a young marine officer very recently appointed, and a boatswain and four enlisted men attached to the battleship Minnesota—12 men all together, as reported briefly to the navy department today, was one of the severest blows that has fallen on the personnel of the navy since the Spanish war, in the estimation of officials.

Were Gaining Practical Knowledge. Because of their youth and their very recent entry into the naval service, the officers lost were not widely known outside of the naval academy. Midshipman Henry G. Murfin, Jr., was a native of Ohio and a member of the second class at the naval academy. Like the others, he had been sent aboard the Minnesota for the summer course of instruction, to afford the practical education necessary to supplement the theoretical work at the naval academy.

Philip H. Field, was a midshipman from Colorado who belonged to the first class of the academy.

Midshipman Walter C. Ulrich, of the second class was from Wisconsin, and Midshipman F. P. Holcomb, of Delaware, was a member of the second class. Holcomb was attached to the Connecticut and is supposed to have taken passage on the Minnesota's missing launch. He was a member of the second class, and appointed to the naval academy from New Castle, Del. His father, Thomas Holcomb, is employed as a clerk in the comptroller's office of the treasury department in this city.

Midshipman W. H. Stevenson, of North Carolina, was a member of the second class, and Henry L. Holden,

How to Cure Constipation

Few people altogether escape a disorder of the bowels. You may catch cold, over-eat, over-drink, worry too much, not exercise enough or do a hundred and one other things that result in constipation or costiveness. When the trouble comes it is well to know what to do for it. In the opinion of thousands there is no better cure for constipation than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which anyone can obtain for 50 cents or $1 at a drug store. We all have constipation occasionally, and the sensible thing to do is to have a bottle of this remedy always in the house. You take it at night on retiring, for example, and when you wake up in the morning at your usual hour it produces its results. Your stomach instantly becomes lighter, your head clearer, your eyes brighter, you feel active and spry once again, your appetite has returned and you are ready to work with enthusiasm and vigor. All this may not have taken more than a dose or two, at a cost not to exceed two or three cents. Can you afford to feel bad when you can feel good for so little?

Dr. Wilson Brown, of Metropolis, Ill., has no hesitancy in saying that Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the greatest of all laxatives and he frankly admits to his patients that if they used not exercise enough or over-eat or over-drink or order they would have less need of him. It is without doubt the best cure for occasional or chronic constipation, dyspepsia, biliousness, jaundice, sour stomach, lazy liver, flatulency, diarrhea, and similar digestive ills in old or young. It is a fact that a laxative of this sort or purgative waters, acts gently but surely, is pleasant to the taste, does not gripe, and cures permanently.

Go to your druggist and get a 50 cent or $1 bottle and see if our claims are not justified.

FREE TEST
Those wishing to try Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin before buying, will find it to their advantage to address the company. This offer is to prove that the remedy will do as we claim, and is only open to those who have never taken it. Send for it if you have any symptoms of stomach, liver or bowel disease. Gentlest yet most effective laxative for children, women and old people. A famous home cure. THE PUBLIC VERDICT: "No Laxative So Good and Sure as DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPsin." This product bears proud evidence No. 17, Washington, D. C.

of Wisconsin, was a member of the same class.

David M. Randall, second lieutenant of marines, was born in New York and appointed from Kansas, entering March 10, 1905.

The conclusion was reached at the navy department that either on account of the lateness of the hour of the returning trip the Minnesota's launch in her haste had been driven hard into a heavy sea that prevailed in Hampton Roads last night, or that the little boat had been run down by some of the giant tramp steamers that make use of the Roads as a refuge in time of storm.

Last night Admiral Evans telegraphed that the five missing seamen are: R. H. Dodson, seaman; H. L. Vandern, ordinary seaman; F. B. Plumber, ordinary seaman; G. W. Westphal, fireman, first class; Jesse Conn, coal passer.

Remarkable Rescue.

That the truth is stranger than fiction, has once more been demonstrated in the little town of Fedora, Tenn., the residence of C. V. Pepper. He writes: "I was in bed, entirely disabled with hemorrhages of the lungs and throat. Doctors failed to help me, and all hope had fled when I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery. Then instant relief came. The coughing soon ceased; the bleeding diminished rapidly, and in three weeks I was able to go to work." Guaranteed for coughs and colds 50c. and $1.00, at all druggists. GIRL ABLAZE IN CROWDED CAR.

Probably Fatally Burned From Stepping Upon a Match.

Philadelphia, June 12.—Fire starting mysteriously, perhaps from treading on a match, suddenly enveloped Miss Margaret Chance, 18 years old, while she was riding in a crowded Fox Chase trolley car this afternoon, and, though the other passengers did all in their power to check the flames, the girl's clothing was burned off. Every hair was burned from her head, and she was terribly seared. She is at the Pennsylvania hospital, making a brave fight for life, but it is feared that she inhaled the flames and cannot recover. Before she was removed from the trolley car other women passengers donated articles of attire to cover her blackened form.

JUDGE SEES REASON TO KISS.

Complainant's Beauty Is So Bewitching Offense Is Natural.

Granite City, Ill., June 12.—Miss Stella McClain, of Alton, appeared yesterday in Justice Kinder's court in Granite City to prosecute E. A. Seck, an Alton druggist. She said she visited a physician's office in Alton, where she was employed, and stole three kisses.

Seck denies the episode without qualification.

Miss McClain is so undeniably pretty that when Justice Kinder saw her he remarked:

"One can hardly blame a man for wanting to kiss a girl who looks like that."

WAR BREAKS OUT IN SALVADOR

Nicaraguan Troops to Aid of Revolutionists

Indications Are That Zelaya Has Declared War on Cabrera Once More.

MEXICO IS QUITE SURPRISED.

City of Mexico, June 12.—Hostilities have broken out again in Central America. A force of Nicaraguans, assisted by Salvadorean revolutionists captured the Port of Acunajutla, Salvador, this morning.

This startling news came to the capitol this evening in the shape of a telegram from President Figueroa to Salvadorean minister to Mexico, Manuel Delgado.

The minister is now closeted with President Diaz.

The Nicaraguans on board the gun boat Momotombo bombarded the fort and then landed troops. The town is now in the hands of Nicaragua General Manuel Rivas. Intense excitement prevails.

It is believed the objective point of the expedition is Port San Jose de Guatemala and that President Zelaya of Nicaragua, has declared war against Guatemala.

Zelaya's action is in direct conflict with the treaty of Ampala, recently signed by representatives of his country, which provides that in case of grievance Central American countries should refer their disputes to the governments of the United States and Mexico for arbitration.

Surprise at Washington.

Washington, June 12.—At the Mexican embassy and the legations of Nicaragua and Guatemala surprise was expressed at the news of renewal of hostilities in Central America. No official advice on the subject had reached them up to a late hour.

GIVES UP BESSEMER PROCESS.

Carnegie Company Finds Rails Made by Open Hearth More Durable.

Pittsburg, June 11.—In response to the insistent demand for more durable rails, the Carnegie company is changing the process of making steel from the Bessemer to the open hearth at the Edgar Thomson works, its largest plant. Work on the construction of two open-hearth furnaces has been begun and more will be added. This action was rendered necessary by the Bethlehem Steel company, which has already made the change. The cost of the product will not be any greater, but its liability to break is reduced to a minimum and its strength and endurance will far outrank that of the Bessemer.

Enters Race and Falls Dead.

St. Louis, Mo., June 12.—While 1,500 St. Louis excursionists and their families watched preparations for a fat men's race at Liederkranz park, Millstadt, Ill., Fred Baltz, of Millstadt, one of those about to start in the race, fell dead across the starting line. Baltz's wife, with her six children, sat in the grand stand joking with acquaintances as her husband fell, and sank fainting.

Party Line Amenities.

A young woman on the North Side uses a telephone on a party line, says the Chicago Record-Herald. The other morning she wanted to call up her dressmaker who lives on the South Side. It was important. She had an unexpected invitation to a dinner, and she wanted to hurry a chiffon creation that was in process of building.

"Hello," she said. "Give me Calumet 1592. Hello. Calumet 1592. Calumet 1592."

Then suddenly a heavy masculine voice with an unmistakable German accent broke in: "Hello Central, I want to use the phone."

"Hello," interrupted the girl. "I'm using this line. Please keep off."

"But, madame, I vill reimburse you."

you, but I want to use the telephone.

"Please keep off; I'm using it."

"But, madame, I vill reimburse you."

"I don't want to be reimbursed. I want to use the phone."

This dialogue continued for a few minutes without variety, and then the man lifted his voice above the girl's: "Oh, madame, I vill reimburse you, but I must use the telephone now, mein house is on fire."

A Lazy Liver

May be only a tired liver, or a starved liver. It would be a stupid as well as a savage thing to beat a weary or starved man because he lagged in his work. So in treating the lagging, torpid liver it is a great mistake to lash it with strong drastic drugs. A torpid liver is but an indication of an ill-nourished, enfeebled body whose organs are weary with overwork. Start with the stomach and allied organs of digestion and nutrition. Put them in working order and see how quickly your liver will become active. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has made many marvelous cures of "liver trouble" by its wonderful control of the organs of digestion and nutrition. It restores the normal activity of the stomach, increases the secretions of the blood-making glands, cleanses the system from poisonous accumulations, and so relieves the liver of the burdens imposed upon it by the defection of other organs.

If you have bitter or bad taste in the morning, poor or variable appetite, coated tongue, bad breath, constipated or irregular bowels, feel weak, easily tired, dependent, frequent headaches, pain or distress in "small of back," gnawing or distressed feeling in stomach, perhaps nausea, or "sour risings" in throat after eating, and kindred symptoms of weak stomach and torpid liver, no medicine will relieve you more promptly or cure you more permanently than Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Perhaps only a part of the above symptoms will be present at one time and yet point to torpid liver or biliousness and weak stomach. Avoid all hot bread and biscuits, griddle cakes and other indigestible food and take the "Golden Medical Discovery" regularly and stick to it until you are vigorous and strong.

The "Discovery" is a non-alcoholic, non-toxic, is a glyceric extract of native medicinal roots with a full list of its ingredients printed on each bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. Its ingredients are endorsed and extolled by the most eminent medical writers of the age and are recommended to cure the diseases for which it is advised.

Don't accept a substitute of unknown composition for this non-secret MEDICINE OF KNOWN COMPOSITION.

CHAPTER IV.

THE keen, strong March wind soon blew the clouds from his brain. He did not hurry toward Hatton Garden. He sauntered, rather, with his right hand clenched on the tiny parcel in his pocket, the parcel which had suddenly been endowed with such magic potentialities. It was the instinct to guard a treasure of great value that led to this involuntary action. He was preoccupied, disturbed, vaguely striving to grasp a vision that seemed to elude his exact comprehension.

What did it all mean? Was it really possible that he, Philip Anson, orphaned, beggar, practically a starving tramp, should have the riches of Golconda showered upon him in this mad fashion? If the small stone he had shown to the jeweler were worth hundreds, then some of those in the paper were worth thousands, while as for the stone in the back yard of his house—well, imagination boggled at the effort to appraise it. The thought begot a sense of caution, of reserve, of well reasoned determination not to reveal his secret to anybody. Perhaps it would be best not to take Messrs. Isaacstein & Co. wholly into his confidence. He would simply show them the stone he had exhibited to Mr. Wilson and take the best price they offered. Then, with the money in his possession, he could effect a much needed change in his appearance, visit them again, and gradually increase his supply of diamonds until he had obtained more money than he could possibly spend during many years.

Above all else was it necessary that his meteor should be removed to a safer place than Johnson's Mews. Philip had scruples about appropriating it. Lords of the manor and crown rights he had never heard of. His mother, watching his every action from some Elysian height, had sent the diamond loaded messenger as a token of her love and care. It was his, and no man should rob him of it. It behooved him to be sparing of explanations and sturdy in defense of his property.

A good deal depended on the forthcoming interview, and he wished he could convert a small fraction of the wealth in his pocket into a few honest pennies with the king's head on them. The excitement and exercise had made him hungry again. His breakfast was not of ample proportions, and his meals of yesterday had been of the scantiest. It would be well to face the diamond merchants with the easy confidence that springs from a satisfied appetite. Yet how to manage it? He was sorry now he had not borrowed a sixpence from O'Brien. The old soldier would certainly have lent it to him. He even thought of returning to the Mile End road to secure the loan, but he happened to remember that the day was Saturday, and it was probable that the Hatton Garden offices would close early. It was then nearly 11 o'clock, and he could not risk the delay of the long, double journey.

At that instant a savory smell was wafted to him. He was passing a small restaurant where sausages and onions sizzled gratefully in large tin trays and pork chops lay in inviting prodigality amid rich, brown gravy. The proprietor, a portly and greasy man with bald head and side whiskers, was standing at the door exchanging views as to business with his next door neighbor, a greengrocer. Philip, bold in the knowledge of his wealth, resolved to try what he could achieve on credit.

He walked up to the pair. "I have not got any money just now," he said to the restaurant keeper, "but if you will let me have something to eat I will gladly come back this afternoon and pay you double."

Neither man spoke at first. Philip was always unconscious of the quaint discrepancy between his style of speech and his attire. He used to resent bitterly the astonishment exhibited by strangers, but today he was far removed above these considerations, and he backed his request with a pleasant smile.

The fat man grew apoplectic and turned his eyes to the sky. "Well, I'm—," he spluttered. The greengrocer laughed, and Philip blushed.

"Do you refuse?" he said, with his downright manner and direct stare. "Well, of all the cool cheek!" The stout person's feelings were for the moment lulled. He could find no other words.

"It is a fair offer," persisted the boy. "You don't think I mean to swindle you, surely?"

"Well, there! I never did!"

But the greengrocer intervened. "You're a sharp lad," he guffawed. "D'ye want a job?"

"No," was the short reply. "I want something to eat."

"Dash my buttons, an' you're a likely sort of kid to get it too. In you go. I'll pay the bill. Lord lumme, it'll do me good to see you."

"Mr. Judd, are you mad?" demanded his neighbor, whose breath had returned to him.

"Not a bit of it. The bloomin' kid can't get through a bob's worth if he bursts himself. 'Ere, I'll bet you two bob 'e pays up."

"Done! Walk in, sir. We'll be pleased to 'ave, sir?"

Philip's indignation at the restaurant keeper's sarcasm yielded to his wish to see him amfiliated later in the day. Moreover, the sausages really smelt excellently, and he was now ravenous. He entered the shop and gave his orders with a quiet dignity that astounded the proprietor and hugely delighted the greengrocer, who, in the intervals of business, kept peeping at him through the window. Philip ate steadily, and the bill amounted to ninepence, which his ally paid cheerfully.

The boy held out his hand. "Thank you, Mr. Judd," he said frankly. "I will return without fail. I will not insult you by offering more than the amount you have advanced for me, but some day I may be able to tender you good service in repayment."

Then he walked off toward the viaduct steps, and Mr. Judd looked after him.

"Talks like a little gentleman," he does. If my little Jimmie 'ad lived 'e would 'a' bin just about his age. Lord lumme, I 'ope 'e 'ad turns up again, an' not for the sake of the bloomin' ninepence, neither. Tomatoes, mum? Yes'm. Fresh in this mornin'."

After crossing Holborn viaduct Philip stood for a little while gazing into the showroom of a motor agency. It was not that he was interested in Panhard or De Dion cars, but but little known to the general public in England, but rather that he wished to rehearse carefully the programme to be followed when he met Mr. Isaacstein. With a sagacity unlooked for in one of his years, he decided that the meteor should not be mentioned at all. Of course the diamond merchant would instantly recognize the stone as a meteoric diamond and would demand its earthly pedigree. Philip resolved to adhere to the simple statement that it was his own property and that any reasonable inquiry might be made in all quarters where meteoric diamonds were obtainable as to whether or not such a stone was missing. Meanwhile he could obtain from Mr. Isaacstein a receipt acknowledging its custody and a small advance of money far below its real worth, leaving the completion of the transaction until a later date. The question of giving or withholding his address if it were asked for was a difficult one to settle offhand. Perhaps the course of events would permit him to keep Johnson's Mews altogether out of the record, and a more reputable habitation would be provided once he had the requisite funds.

Thinking he had successfully tackled all the problems that would demand solution, Philip wasted no more time. He entered Hatton Garden and had not gone past many of its dingy houses until he saw a large brass plate bearing the legend, "Isaacstein & Co., Diamond Merchants, Kimberley, Amsterdam and London."

He entered the office and was instantly confronted by a big nosed youth who surveyed him through a grille with an arched opening in it to admit letters and small parcels.

"Is Mr. Isaacstein in?" said Philip.

"Oah, yes," grinned the other.

"Will you kindly tell him I wish to see him?"

"Oah, yes." There was a joke lurking somewhere in the atmosphere, but the young man had not caught its drift yet. The gamut and unkempt visitor was evidently burling the accent of such genteel people as came to the office on business.

Philip waited a few seconds. The boy behind the grille filled in the interval by copying an address into the stamp book.

"Why do you not tell Mr. Isaacstein I am here?" he said at last.

"Oah, yes. You'll be funny, eh?"

The other smirked over the hidden humor of the situation, and Philip understood that if he would see the great man of the firm he must adopt a more emphatic tone.

"I had better warn you that Mr. Wilson of Messrs. Grant & Sons, Ludgate Hill, sent me here to see Mr. Isaacstein. Ain't I to go back to Mr. Wilson and say that the office boy refuses to admit me?"

There was a sting in the description, coming from such a speaker.

"Look 'ere," was the angry retort. "Go away and blay, vil you? I'm pizzy."

Then Philip reached quickly through the little arch, grabbed a handful of shirt, tie and waistcoat and dragged the big nose and thick lips violently against the wires of the grille.

"Will you do what I ask or shall I try and pull you through?" he said quietly.

But the boy's ready yell brought two clerks running, and a door was thrown open. Philip released his opponent and instantly explained his action. One of the clerks, an elderly man, looked a little deeper than the boy's ragged garments, and the mention of Mr. Wilson's name procured him a hearing. Moreover, he had previous experience of the youthful janitor's methods.

With a cuff on the ear, this injured personage was hidden to go upstairs and say that Mr. Wilson had sent a boy to see Mr. Isaacstein. The added insult came when he was compelled to usher Philip to a waiting room.

Soon a clerk entered. He was visibly astonished by the appearance of Mr. Wilson's messenger, and so was Mr. Isaacstein when Philip was paraded before him in a spacious apartment filled with glass cases and tables, at which several assistants were seated.

"What the deuce"—he began, but checked himself. "What does Mr. Wilson want?" he went on. Evidently his Ludgate Hill acquaintance was useful to Philip.

"He wants nothing, sir," said Philip. "He sent me to see you on a matter of business. It is of a private nature. Can you give me a few minutes alone?"

Isaacstein was a big headed, big shouldered man, tapering to a small point at his feet. He looked absurdly like a top, and surprise or emotion of any sort caused him to sway gently. He swayed now, and every clerk looked up, expecting him to fall bodily on to the urchin with the refined utterance who had dared penetrate into the potentate's office with such a request.

Kimberley, Amsterdam and London combined to lend effect to Isaacstein's wit when he said: "Is this a joke?"

All the clerks guffawed in chorus. Fortunately Isaacstein was in a good humor. He had just purchased a pearl for £250 which he would sell to Lady Somebody for £300 to match another in an earring.

"It appears to be," said Philip when the merriment had subsided.

For some reason the boy's grave, earnest eyes, conquered the big little man's amused scrutiny.

"Now, boy, be quick. What is it?" he said testily. And every clerk bent to his task.

"I have told you, sir. I wish to have a few minutes' conversation with you with regard to business of an important nature."

"You say Mr. Wilson sent you—Mr. Wilson of Grant & Sons?"

"Yes, sir."

Isaacstein yielded to amazed curiosity.

"Step in here," he said and led the way to his private office, surprising himself as well as his assistants by this concession.

Philip closed the door, and Isaacstein turned sharply at the sound, but the boy gave him no time to frame a question.

"I want you to buy this," he said, handing over the diamond.

Isaacstein took it and gave it one critical glance. He began to wobble again.

AFTER HARRIMAN

IT IS PROBABLE THE GOVERNMENT WILL PROSECUTE.

President and Attorney General Both Hold to View that the Facts Warrant It.

Washington, June 12.—Developments since the conference at the white house last Friday evening make it probable that the government will begin proceedings under the anti-trust act against E. H. Harriman and his associates for violation of the law in connection with the so-called Alton railroad deal, the Union and Southern Pacific transactions, and perhaps in connection with the Southern Pacific and San Pedro traffic agreement.

At the white house conference last Friday evening Commissioners Knapp and Lane, who are understood to hold opposite views on this question, explained their respective positions at some length.

The president and Attorney General Bonaparte, however have kept well informed on every phase of the disbursements at the hearings of the interstate commerce commission and while great weight would naturally attach to the views and recommendations of the members of the commission, it is believed both the president and the attorney general have reached the same conclusion, namely that the evidence submitted justifies action to restore the original status.

PIONEER ASKS FOR A DIVORCE.

Michigan Man, Aged 90, Tires of Married Life.

Kalamazoo, Mich., June 12.—Levi Woods, a territorial pioneer and for 52 years a pillar of the Presbyterian church here, has wearied of wedded life, and at the age of 90 demands a divorce from his wife, Mary, whom he married 27 years ago. The circuit court has taken his case under advisement. Woods charges a daughter of his wife by a former marriage with causing trouble. He says she induced him to sell his property here and move to California, where she was living. He remained some time and then returned, his wife preferring to stay with her daughter, he alleges.

Don't let your child suffer with that cough when you can cure it with Ballard's Horehound Syrup, a sure cure for Coughs, Bronchitis, Influenza, Croup and Pulmonary Diseases. Buy a bottle and try it. B. B. Laughlin, Bynalia, Miss., writes: "I have two children who had croup. I tried many different remedies, but I must say your Horehound Syrup is the best Croup and Cough medicine I ever used."

Sold by all druggists.

Woman Hysterical in Court.

Kenosha, Wis., June 12.—Alleging that she had been robbed of property in Chicago valued at $20,000 by the means of a mock marriage performed at the city hall in Chicago a year ago, Mrs. Tillie Drombowski created a scene here this morning at the opening of the circuit court.

She had come to seek the aid of Judge Belden,

ANOTHER STORM

DU QUOIN, ILL., SUFFERS SECOND VISITATION.

Several Buildings Damaged and Two People Are Probably Killed.

Du Quoin, Ill., June 12.—The second of a series of June cyclones predicted for southern Illinois swept over the city and surrounding community last night and while it was comparatively brief in duration, the damage inflicted was almost as heavy as that of Friday's storm.

The A. M. E. Zion church was demolished by the storm.

Shortly before the storm a man and a child were seen to seek shelter underneath the church which was on a temporary foundation and it is believed they were crushed.

Damage to various buildings is reported. The storm was accompanied by terrific rain fall and hail.

FRANCE IN THROES OF REVOLUTION

GREAT MANY OFFICIALS RESIGN.

Paris, June 12.—A revolution, as yet peaceful, but none the less formidable, is spreading all over the south of France. In accord with the program of Marcelin Albert, the leader of the rebellious wine growers, the officials of scores of cities resigned today, and the movement is rapidly spreading.

The action of the civic authorities in quitting office will throw the entire south into a condition of anarchy. The government will have to interfere to preserve order, and the result can only be conjectured.

In the chamber of deputies today the preliminaries of the government's bill for the prevention of the adulteration of wine were discussed. In the course of the debate Andre C. Dubois, unified socialist, suggested the establishment of a state monopoly of alcohol, such as exists for tobacco, declaring this to be the only effective solution of the difficulty. The debate went over until tomorrow when Finance Minister Caillaux will explain how the bill meets the situation.

Situation Is Most Grave.

By the terms of the resolutions which half a million people at Montpellier yesterday swore with uplifted hands to execute, the inhabitants refuse to pay taxes unless parliament affords relief. If they carry out their threat the civil government will cease to reign from the Spanish frontier to the Rhone, comprising the departments of Hérault, Aude, Haute-Garonne, and Pyrénées-Orientales.

The situation is all the more grave because it constitutes a unanimous protestation of the population, and being accompanied by disorder, furnishes the government with no pretext to resort to force.

Marcelin Albert, the leader of the movement, was until a couple of months ago an obscure wine grower of Argeliers. Now he is acclaimed as a "redeemer" and seems to hold the south of France in the hollow of his hand. His orders are implicitly and unquestionably obeyed, and by the power of organization with which he is endowed he has proved himself to be a born leader of men. It is realized among the hot blooded people of the south such a man might fire a formidable revolution.

Government Can Do Little.

Beyond passing a bill forbidding fraud in the manufacture of wine the government can do little, all the experts who have investigated the conditions having found that the real depression was caused by overproduction, for which even the rigorous suppression of fraud will be no remedy. The only solution they report is the abandonment of much of the wine acreage in favor of regular farm crops and truck gardening.

The outlook has caused much agitation in the press. The Académie thinks the government should treat the impoverished wine growers as if they had been overtaken by a catastrophe and distribute money for their relief.

"It would cost several millions," the paper adds, "but if it would restore tranquility, why hesitate?"

The Echo de Paris says the government undoubtedly has the right to arrest M. Albert, the leader of the movement, but it dreads the consequences of such action. The paper further asserts that the government "cannot yield to the anti-republican, illegal and anti-patriotic challenge."

Already Blessed.

Mrs. Spat—Ah, at last! Here is where some great man says bachelors cannot reach heaven.

Mr. Spat—Oh, that's all right. They are satisfied, I am sure. They have heaven right here on earth.

GRANTS FREE GOVERNMENT.

Great Britain Provides Ample for Orange River Country.

London, June 12.—Letters patent establishing a responsible government in the Orange River colony were issued today. With a few modifications the new government follows the lines laid down in the Transvaal constitution. The announcement is generally well received by the members of the house of commons and the threatened hostile criticism is not likely to develop.

In transmitting the letters to the governor of the colony, the earl of Elgin, secretary of state for the colonies, conveyed King Edward's sincere satisfaction that free institutions no less ample than those given the Transvaal were granted the Orange River colony.

The wording of the message is considered another instance of his majesty's diplomatic tact.

Smokes 100 Cigaretts a Day.

Warsaw, Ind., June 12.—Edward McCrell, who is confined in the county jail awaiting the action of the grand jury on a charge of burglary recently brought against him, outdid his own record at cigarette smoking on Sunday by disposing of 100 of the "pills." He used up a box of 500 matches in lighting them. He is a physical wreck. McCrell receives the "makin's" from friends, who bring them to the jail. He says he would die without them. His downfall is attributed to cigarettes.

LYNCHING TRIAL IS RESUMED.

Government Seeks To Prove Conspiracy Between Sheriff and Mob.

Chattanooga, Tenn., June 12.—The government today resumed taking testimony in the Sheriff Shipp contempt case, which followed the lynching of Ed. Johnson, a negro, after the federal supreme court had granted a stay of execution, just as though no adjournment had been taken two months ago. J. R. Curtis, a newspaper reporter, and T. S. Wilcox, head of the police commission here, testified during the morning. The latter said no officer at the county jail called for aid that night. Tomorrow the government will introduce Arthur J. Waller, a convicted murderer in state's prison, to prove if possible a conspiracy between the lynchers and the sheriff's officers.

It takes a man with a lot of brass to dispose of a gold brick.

RAILROAD NOTES

600 Pounds of Iron on Foot.

Steve Busey, colored, a laborer in the gang of Dos Alzman in the local Illinois Central shop yards, was injured by falling iron bars in the blacksmith shop this morning. He was rolling driving wheels through the shops when several heavy pieces of iron, weighing several hundred pounds, were dislodged and fell on his left foot. Busey took off his shoe, "crossed" the injured member several times, donned the footwear again, and went about his business. Ordinarily such a weight would crush every bone in the foot. The negro did not go to the hospital.

Too Specific Form.

Mr. E. J. Hackel, the popular Illinois Central engine foreman, is to be married, and was completely routed by embarrassment when applying for his pass to St. Louis where the ceremony is to be performed. So great was his embarrassment that he tangled up his application, making doubtless one of the most unique applications ever filed in local Illinois Central offices.

A regular form is supplied for applications for passes. It reads "from to—and return via—good for—on account of—Purpose of trip, etc." Passes are issued "on account of employment of road" for "purpose of visit," etc. Mr. Hackel in making out this form drew it in this way:

"To St. Louis, return via Cairo, good for 30 days, on account of Marriage. Purpose of trip 'Wedding,' and turned it over to Yardmaster Sullivan.

Mr. Hackel will marry a St. Louis girl on June 25, and will leave Paducah about the 20th. He refused to disclose the name of his bride-to-be, having intended making the wedding a surprise.

Comply With Law.

Passenger officials of the Illinois, Indiana and Missouri lines met in St. Louis recently for an informal discussion of the 2 cent fare law. The Illinois lines got together in the morning, Chairman McLeod of the Western Passenger association, presiding, and the Missouri lines met in the afternoon, with Chairman Haneagan of the Southwestern association, presiding. The whole situation was carefully considered at both conferences, but no definite conclusions were reached, and it was determined to refer all questions to the association meeting on Tuesday and the Central Passenger association on Wednesday. The consensus of opinion was that the law would be strictly complied with—the Missouri law taking effect June 15 and the Illinois law July 1.

Mr. Padillor Kirk, special agent for the Illinois Central, is confined by illness.

CARUSO'S FATE HANGS ON WORD

If "Misdemeanor" Is Interpreted as "Crime" He Must Stay Out.

New York, June 12.—When Enrico Caruso, the famous tenor, comes back to America to fulfill the $200,000 contract the Metropolitan Opera company has made with him he will have a hard time getting into the country. Commissioner of Immigration Watchorn said today that he could not permit Caruso to enter. The question was put to the official today as what he proposed to do.

"The law is very plain that a person who has committed a crime cannot come into America," he said, "but in this case it is hard to classify Caruso's offense. He pleaded guilty to the charge and he willingly paid the fine. That settles that. He is guilty. But under the statutes of New York he was charged with a misdemeanor. Now if that misdemeanor is a crime he cannot come back into this country.

"I am not permitted to interpret the law. This is a new phase, and when Caruso arrives I will have to send to Washington for an interpretation and instructions.

"In any event, if he comes here before this matter is settled, I will have to hold him a prisoner on Ellis Island."

IMPERIAL LIFE ELECTION BILL.

New York Senate Attaches Amendment to Insurance Measure.

Albany, June 12.—The senate last night amended the bill prohibiting salaried agents of life insurance companies from activity in elections, and by so doing, so late in the session, imperiled the enactment of the bill. The amendment, which was adopted by a vote of 26 to 15, permits agents to electioneer outside of office hours. The bill was agreed on by the joint committees on insurance after conferences with Governor Hughes and representatives of the various insurance companies.

Elephant Kills a Boy.

Buffalo, June 12.—Goaded to fury by the torments of a dozen small boys who had followed her for several blocks of the parade today and pelted her with small missiles, Ruth, a feature of Cole Brothers' circus, and said to be the largest living elephant, shot her trunk into a densely packed crowd of spectators at La Fayette Square in Main street. When she withdrew it the body of 12-year-old Rocco Laquino dangled in the air.

Rat Killing Day in St. Louis.

St. Louis, Mo., June 12.—"Down with rats" is the slogan in St. Louis, and June 15 has been set apart as a day for concerted efforts to destroy rodents. Poison, traps, clubs, dogs and all other means of extermination will be used in the war on the pest.
